Why Should I Check my Student e-mail?

Your student e-mail is one of the main medium of communication between the University and you. By checking you e-mail at least twice a week, you will receive important updates and information, such as messages from the Finance Department, the Records Office, Student Affairs Office and from the Corporate Affairs office. Apart from that, you will also be updated on the latest events and activities of your favourite clubs and societies. Life at UCSI University is never dull.

Every student at UCSI University will receive an exclusive UCSI University email powered by Google. Your email address is YourStudentID@mail.ucsi.edu.my and your temporary password is your student ID.

What benefits will I get?

Apart from having 7GB of space, you will also have built-in chat functions, access to shared calendars, collaborative tools and lots more. You can also use built-in Google documents and collaborate on projects with your team members. You can even personalise the look and feel of your inbox.

The UCSI University email is also your window to the latest happenings on campus. Get your very own copy of the UCSI University e-News and the UCSI Uni Diary sent straight to your inbox.

You can access your mail box at login.mail.ucsi.edu.my. If you do not have access to your account, please contact the Computer Services Department at Block B, UCSI University KL Campus, South Wing or call them at 03-9101 8880 ext: 3209 or email at administrator@ucsi.edu.my

UCSI University
on Facebook

Facebook (FB) is a social networking website where you can share your thoughts, videos, photos and more! UCSI University is also on FB, making it easy for us to update you on the latest events and activities.

Through FB, you will get to see the latest pictures of our events, videos and other exciting activities. Interact with like-minded friends on the Facebook page and share comments. If you see yourself in one of our event photos, then just go ahead and tag yourself!

Did you take some cool photos of your club events? Share them with your friends on FB. We look forward to seeing your photos as well. Just upload them to the UCSI University fan page at the fan photo section. Make sure you tag yourself and your friends!

Spread the word about your cool events or student club activities by creating an FB event. Send us a message about it, and we'll publicise it to the UCSI University community.

You can also share favourite articles or photos by posting them on our FB page, and let your friends know about it too. Go on, some good things are worth sharing on Facebook!

UCSI University on Youtube

Missed out on a great event because you had to finish up your assignments? Now you get to see how cool the event was via the UCSI University's YouTube Channel at www.ucsi.edu.my/youtube

Watch videos of past events such as parties, dinners, ceremonies, games and concerts. Every now and then we will also post some really cool home-made videos by students.

We would also like to see your funny videos or some insightful documentaries you've personally created. Share it with the rest of the UCSI University community and the world by giving us copies of the videos.

You can also share a favourite or interesting video with your friends by embedding them on your own blog or Facebook.

Find out the Corporate Communications Department contact number in this brochure to get details how to upload your own video on UCSI University's very own Youtube channel.

UCSI University on Twitter

Twitter is a microblogging service which enables users to keep up with their friends (called followers) by answering the simple question of "What are you doing?"

By following UCSI University's Twitter updates, you can find out what other students have been up to, through short bits of information on events and university activities.

The UCSI University Twitter can also update you on "live" events so that you won't miss out on anything!
